

More to show 'time' than meets the eye

A SHIFT in time and surreal environment are the setting for Alan Acyckbourn's comedy, Improbable Fiction.

Lancing Repertory Players' spring production is set in the present in the first act, with a group of would-be writers having a regular meeting at Arnold's house.

When the meeting ends, the first act closes with a thunderstorm which heralds act two and the surreal incarnation of their fictional characters.

Lancing Rep welcome three new actors to the group for this production - Jenni Acton, Simon Birks and Paul Jones - as well as a number of new backstage crew.

Performances will be at Lancing Parish Hall, in South

Street, Lancing, from Thursday, April 15, to Saturday, April 17, at 7.30pm.

Tickets, priced £7, can be obtained by calling Adrian Tincknell on 01903 243558, by visiting the website www.lancingrep.co.uk or on the door.
